When I was ten, my father took me camping for the first time in <sup>1</sup> _____ Michigan, USA. He wanted to teach me about wild animals, insects and trees.

We enjoyed the first two days together walking and fishing. Then <sup>2</sup> _____ my uncles came with <sup>3</sup> _____ bows and arrows to go hunting.

One evening we were sitting by the fire when <sup>4</sup> _____ bird flew over us. Immediately my uncles jumped up and fired their arrows at <sup>5</sup> _____ bird. All of them missed. But suddenly the arrows were flying down at us from <sup>6</sup> _____ sky. There were arrows everywhere – they looked like rain! We ran to escape them and fortunately no one was injured.

That day I didn't learn anything about <sup>7</sup> _____ animals or insects or trees, but I learnt <sup>8</sup> _____ great lesson about gravity!
