

THE KOREAN WAR

After WWII, the of Korea become Communist and the South of Korea became

By September 1950, almost all of Korea had turned

President was not happy with this. He put pressure on the and under Resolution, the UN committed itself to using its members' armies to drive North Korean troops out of South Korea.

The commander would be General

The UN forces and the South Korean troops advanced from Pusan towards the In September 1950.

By October 1950, General Mac Arthur had achieved the aim but decided not to He wanted to

In November 1950, joins the war supported by the

In April 1951, Mac Arthur is removed from his position and Truman accepts they cannot remove communists out of North Korea.

In 1952, replaces Truman and in 1953, died. Peace talks begin.

Finally, in an was signed.