

The next day, Mack wanted to talk to Grandad. She opened the door, but he wasn't there. She looked at the hoverboard. She didn't remember that it was dangerous and she wanted to try it.

The hoverboard travelled back in time. Mack was in a different work room. There was a boy. He was very surprised.

'Are you an alien?' he asked. 'Er... no, I'm Mack. What year is this?' Mack asked. The boy laughed. 'It's 1969!' he answered. Mack explained where she was from. They talked about the future.

The hoverboard started to make a noise. 'What's happening?' he asked. 'I have to go now,' Mack answered. She climbed onto the board. 'Wait!' he called, but she disappeared.

The boy's mum was angry. 'Steven Jobs! It was dinner time half an hour ago. Put that toy away now and wash your hands!'
