

British magazines

Read the text and do the tasks:

More than 80% of under 16s in Great Britain read teenage magazines. The most popular ones sell more than 250 000 copies a month. Teen magazines are more popular among girls, but boys often buy sports, music or computer magazines.

'Bliss' and 'Sugar' have been Britain's most popular teen magazines for the last few years. These are girls' magazines with articles about boys and fashion, and interviews with famous people. They also have problem pages, horoscopes and competitions. Celebrity gossip magazines like 'Heat' or 'OK! Magazine' have also been popular since the late 1990s.

What other magazines are popular in Great Britain? Read the descriptions and guess the names of magazines.

Match the descriptions with the names of newspapers:

«BBC Good Food»

«House Beautiful»

«The Garden»

«Women's Health»

«The Week Junior»

«TV Choice»

«GQ»

«Stylist»

A lifestyle magazine centered on nutrition and keeping fit.

A weekly news magazine for 8-to-14-year-olds about events, animals, nature, science, books, sport, technology, films, recipes, puzzles, etc.

A magazine that contains a lot of recipes (from traditional cuisine to exotic dishes).

A magazine that is famous for its ideas of planting flowers and vegetables.

A men's fashion & style magazine that provides entertainment, sport and culture news, reviews and comment.

A magazine for women that focuses on latest lifestyle, fashion, beauty, travel, wellness and entertainment news.

A magazine that focuses on interior decorating and domestic arts.

A magazine that includes features on shows, including British soap operas and films.