

Social Enterprises Examples

Read the 6 examples of social enterprises and complete the titles with these words.

GET, GIVE, EMPLOY

BUY A BOOK, PLANT A TREE

TRANSFORMATIVE POWER OF PLAY

GLASSES FOR THE NEEDY

ONE FOR ONE

MEDICAL UNIFORMS FOR THOSE IN NEED

1. TOMS SHOES:

Drag the words to the correct place in the text:    donate    size    important

TOMS Shoes was moved by the fact that many children in developing countries didn't have shoes or if they have them they are not their                      nor comply with basic standards towards health and safety. Providing adequate shoes for children is very                      and so TOMS: Shoes for Shoes started off. With every pair of shoes you buy from them they will                      an adequate pair to a child in need. These shoes will enable them to play and go to school safely: improving Health, giving access to Education and building Confidence. TOMS has given over 50 million pairs of new shoes to children in need.

2. BARON FIG:

Drag the words to the correct place in the text:    quality    countries    plant

Baron Fig produces high                      notebooks for creative professionals and hobbyists. They know the impact paper production has on trees and so they                      a tree for every notebook sold. Promoting environmental consciousness, responsibility and overcoming their impact. Up until now they have already planted 52,866 trees in more than 30                      .

3. FIGS:

Drag the words to the correct place in the text:    started            infection            poor

Many medical professionals in                            areas do not have access to basic medical supplies and uniforms. Clean clothing reduces hospital-acquired                            rates by 66%. FIGS                            to give for every set of uniforms sold, a set to a healthcare provider in need. Up until now their impact is over 75,000 sets of medical professional clothing in 26 countries around the world.

4. ONE WORLD FOOTBALL PROJECT:

Drag the words to the correct place in the text:    ball            tough            youth

Moved by the playing conditions and materials children in developing areas have the team at One World Football Project decided to come up with a durable football, that would work anywhere in the world:                            enough for the roughest landscapes and durable enough to last for years of play. For every                            you buy, they will donate a second ball to organizations that are working with                            in disadvantaged communities worldwide. Their impact is now of over 45 million lives changed.

5. WARBY PARKER:

Drag the words to the correct place in the text:    sell            money            without

The objective of Warby Parker is to address the 703 million people that live                            access to eyewear. For every pair of glasses you buy they will donate the same amount of                            to source the glasses to a non-profit. These non-profits then provide training to men and women in developing countries to give basic eye exams and                            glasses to their communities at affordable prices. As a result, there was an increase in eye awareness and improved eye-care in the developing world. Warby Parker has now distributed over a million pairs of glasses to people in need.

6. MITSCOOT'S:

Drag the words to the correct place in the text: integrate      job      homeless

In Austin, the main challenge with _____ people is obtaining food and water with access to clean socks and clothes. At Mitscoots they enable homeless people to have clean socks and a _____. For every product you buy from their store they give an equal quality one to someone in need and employ the transitioning homeless to get each and every style packaged. This helps homeless to _____ into the community and have an opportunity to get off of the streets.