

Center of gravity OR Center of mass

The point through which the whole weight of the body acts is called

Dependence on Gravitational Fields

the point at which we can imagine all the mass of an object to be concentrated .

The balancing point of an object