

My Body

Listen, complete and match.

The worksheet is designed for a listening and matching activity. It features a central image of a young boy in a dynamic pose, with various body parts labeled using colored dots and arrows. The labels are as follows:

- Head: Blue dot with an arrow pointing to the head.
- Neck: Red dot with an arrow pointing to the neck.
- Chest: Red dot with an arrow pointing to the chest.
- Shoulders: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the shoulders.
- Arms: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the arms.
- Elbows: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the elbows.
- Wrists: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the wrists.
- Hands: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the hands.
- Legs: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the legs.
- Knees: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the knees.
- Ankles: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the ankles.
- Feet: Blue dots with arrows pointing to the feet.

Below the image, there are five horizontal lines, each with a blue dot and a speaker icon above it, intended for students to write the names of the body parts and match them to the correct location on the boy.
