Celebrating events and festivals in schools has become an important part of learning and building a strong cultural belief. Children will remember an important day only if they are told what the meaning of the occasion is. So, a celebration makes them aware of the world in a more fun way.

These celebrations bring the students closer to each other's traditions and cultural beliefs and develop respect and understanding for each other's customs and traditions. Some of the days celebrated in most of the schools are Independence Day, teacher's Day, women's Day, etc. For students, it is a great way to understand the rich tradition of their country and learn about the importance of various festivals. Along with enthusiasm and fun for the activities, qualities like creativity and togetherness also are formed and developed. Apart from building relationships and friendships, such celebrations will bring happiness and love among children, friends, and family. Many schools organize cultural exchanges for students that foster intercultural learning experiences.
