Aria, who is this ?

This is my friend Jessie.

OK! Where and when did you meet ?

I met her for the first time, at my high school when I was 17. She was a new student in my school.

And how did you get to talk to her ?

We were in the same class. So I sat next to her and we talked a lot.

What was your first impression ?

My first impression of her was really great. She was lively and friendly.

Why did you have this impression ?

Well, we both liked similar things. We both like pets, and she has a lovely dog called Jackie.

Also, we love travelling, and we dreamed about being flight attendants. She's very smart too. She can communicate with people in three languages: English, Chinese, and Thai.

Impressive! When did you realize your first impression was wrong ?

She's a party girl. Jesse always goes out and hangs out with her friends all night. I thought, she was a good person at the time, but now, I'm not so sure.

What happened to change your mind ?

We got a job, at the same company. We decided to be roommates, and, I found that she had some negative traits. For example, she was very lazy. She never woke up early. I always needed to wake her up every morning. She also spent a lot of money on traveling. So she never had enough money to pay rent, for her room. And, I had to pay for her instead. She never paid me back.

So, what do you think about her now ?

She is still traveling, spending a lot of money, and she also keeps saying, "I will pay you back, for sure, next week!". But next week never comes! The only thing that I can do now, is wait. If she won't pay me back soon, I won't talk to her again, ever!
