Worldview Elements

Geography Time Society Value

Beliefs Economy Knowledge

		It is how the landscape, country and where you are located influences how you see the world.
		It is how society views time, either by mechanical means {clocks} or by natural means {seasons, the sun, the moon}
		This has to do with power, status, and roles available to a society. Who has them and how did they obtain them. Are certain benefits available to everyone or only certain individual.
		This refers to how certain people interact with others in their groups and outside their social groups.
		This has to do with what people believe about their environment, and about life and death.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

		This is about who controls the resources, who produces, distributes and protects them.
		This has to do with how knowledge is acquired, who has access to it, and how it is valued.

LIVEWORKSHEETS