EFL 3.3.2. Show understanding of some basic details in short simple cross-curricular texts by matching, labeling and answering simple questions.	D. READING 7. Read to write TRUE or FALSE. Lessons for life  Imagine this... You were playing with your friends when one of them fell and hit his head. You phoned for an ambulance, but it didn't arrive. Would you know what to do next? Something like this happened to Lily Kent a few weeks ago when she was out cycling. Her friend, Annie, fell and hurt her leg, but Lily has been on a first aid course, so she knew exactly what to do. Annie's leg was bleeding, so Lily washed and bandaged her injury. Then, she phoned the ambulance and she sat with Annie while they waited for help to arrive. Annie felt safe knowing Lily was there. Annie is fine now, but the accident has changed her views about first aid. 'I've wanted to learn about first aid for a long time. Since the accident, I've been even more interested,' said Annie. 'So, I've started a first aid course – and it's really interesting!' 1- Annie had an accident. ☐ 2- Thanks to a First Aid course, Lily could help Annie. ☐ 3- While Annie was phoning the ambulance, Lily bandaged her injury. ☐ 4- Annie has been interested in learning First Aid since the accident. ☐ 5- Lily is teaching Annie First Aid. ☐	6 OPTS
