

2 Modal verbs would and will for requests

page 89

- Don't confuse like and would like. Would like means "want."
- You can also use I'll have . . . when ordering in a restaurant to mean I will have . . .

Complete the conversation with would, I'd, or I'll.

A: Would you like to order now?

B: Yes, please. I'd have the shrimp curry.

A: Would you like noodles or rice with that?

B: Hmm, I'd have rice.

A: And Would you like a salad, too?

B: No, thanks.

A: Would you like anything else?

B: Yes, I'll like a cup of green tea.
