

Layout:

Beginning:

Engage the reader and make them want to read more, you can begin with a question or a general opinion

Middle:

State your main points and relate them to personal experiences and opinions

Ending:

Summarize your main points but make an overall point to make the reader think they have learnt something from reading the article

P.S. include a headline

Suggested grammar structures:

Impersonal passive: It is said that HBO make the best movies in the world.

Modal verbs: It might be a good idea to take your time.

Conditionals: If I were you, I would watch it at the cinema.

Relative clauses: I know someone who lives in that area.

Wish: I wish I could eat chocolate every day.

How to write an article for the PET Exam

RUBRIC:

You see this post on an English language website- What types of books do you most enjoy?

- ❖ Do you prefer reading or watching TV
- ❖ What is the best way to take advantage of your free time?

Write an article about these questions.
The best articles will be published on the site.

The most interesting way to spend your free time

Have you ever _____ about the best way to spend your free time? If you _____ to know the key to making the most of your _____ time, this article is a must read

Instead of _____ on the TV every time you get home, why not try _____ up a book? Reading is a great way to relax and it is also a fantastic way to open your mind. There is nothing like looking forward to _____ home and reading a book that you are into. It helps you unwind, improve your imagination and it can even help you to learn a _____ language.

I have no doubt that reading will improve your life. If I _____ you, I would choose a new book today!

