The Winter Olympics are practically here.
They say that the sports will be different this year.
Instead of athletes who always compete,
They plan to have animals! Won't that be neat?

They plan, for example, in cross-country skiing
This year to have not even one human being.
Instead, they'll let polar bears out of zoos
And fit them with custom-made cross-country shoes.

With helmets and skis they'll head out in the cold
To race one another and go for the gold.
On ski jump this winter I hear that they'll use
A family of jackrabbits or kangaroos.

I'm sure the Olympics this year will be huge
With goats on the snowboards and lemurs on luge!
And won't it be fun to watch elephants race
On bobsleighs downhill at a neck-breaking pace?
