

GRAMMAR IN CONTEXT Will versus going to

For decisions

We usually use will/won't when we make a decision at the moment of speaking.

We usually use going to when we have already made a decision for plans and intentions.

For predictions

We usually use will/won't to make predictions based on personal feelings or opinions.

We usually use going to when there is some evidence in the present to support the prediction.

See Grammar focus on page 162.
