

PREPOSITIONS.

USE THE SUITABLE PREPOSITIONS. IF THERE IS NO PREPOSITION, USE 0

They will leave _____ Monday morning. We are going to meet _____ a week's time.
They arrived _____ six o'clock _____ the morning. David lives _____ the fifth floor. I think Caroline is _____ holiday. What happened _____ David? Do you know this poem _____ heart? We had to go _____ foot. _____ the end everybody was happy and pleased. Who's going to take care _____ the child? The detective accused the young man _____ murder. The boy apologised _____ the teacher _____ being late. The boss is _____ a bad mood today. The kitten belongs _____ Kate. I never discuss _____ politics _____ dinner table. I woke up _____ midnight. The businessman arrived _____ Paris _____ May 22. Our teacher wanted to speak _____ our parents. Have you heard _____ the accident? America was discovered _____ 15th century _____ Spanish explorers.

Would you like to join _____ us tomorrow when we are going _____ the theatre? Our car didn't start _____ such a cold morning and because of that were late _____ school. When did the first Englishmen arrive _____ America? – Oh, it was already _____ the 17th century. Thousands of children die _____ illnesses _____ Africa. I am always sorry _____ them. Jane promised to wait _____ her friends _____ front _____ the cinema _____ 7.30.
My elder brother graduated _____ Tartu University _____ last year. We all went _____ Tartu to congratulate him _____ his good results. Don't be angry _____ your friends.
They didn't mean to laugh _____ you. You must not write the test _____ pencil, write _____ pen. This car belongs _____ me.