

ครูปอม-ครูปลา สอนพิเศษ 09-555-19391, 09-241-99-638

2 Combine the two simple sentences to make one sentence.
Use a non-defining relative clause.

- 1 Her son works in a factory. He lives in Spain.
Her son, who lives in Spain, works in a factory.
- 2 My sister wants to be a musician. She plays the violin.
- 3 I'd like to visit Buckingham Palace. The Queen lives there.
- 4 I left my new phone on the bus. I bought it last week.
- 5 Martin speaks fluent Italian. His mum comes from Rome.
- 6 Last month, I visited Jamaica. My grandfather was born there.
- 7 My uncle earns a lot of money. He works for a bank.
- 8 The Ferrari 550 can go at 320 km / h. It has a 5.5 litre engine.
- 9 Jake is going to study maths at university. His sister is in my class.

ANSWERS

1. Her son, who lives in Spain, works in a factory.
2. My sister, , plays the violin, wants to be a musician.
3. I'd like to visit Buckingham Palace, the Queen lives.
4. I left my new phone, I bought last week, on the bus.
5. Martin, mum comes from Rome, speaks fluent Italian.
6. Last month, I visited Jamaica, my grandfather was born.
7. My uncle, works for a bank, earns a lot of money.
8. The Ferrari 550, has a 5.5 litre engine, can go at 320km /h.
9. Jake, sister is in my class, is going to study maths at university.

EXPLOIT

- 1 Complete the text with the relative clauses (a-f).
- a which makes toys and games
 - b who has worked with Jack since 1975
 - c where his son and grandchildren live
 - d who will be 90 years old next month
 - e which started at just £4 a week
 - f who are planning a big 90th birthday party for him

Jack Barnes, 'd, still gets up at seven o'clock every morning and catches the bus to work. He has been an employee at the J.B. Bates & Sons factory, 'e, for more than 60 years. In that time, his salary, 'b, has increased by 20,000%! Jack's colleagues, 'c, do not believe that Jack will ever retire. 'He loves his work too much,' says Bill Tanner, 'f. 'He talks about moving to Australia, 'a, but he'll never do it.'

- 2 Combine the two simple sentences to make one sentence.
Use a non-defining relative clause.

- 1 Her son works in a factory. He lives in Spain.
Her son, who lives in Spain, works in a factory.
- 2 My sister wants to be a musician. She plays the violin.
- 3 I'd like to visit Buckingham Palace. The Queen lives there.
- 4 I left my new phone on the bus. I bought it last week.
- 5 Martin speaks fluent Italian. His mum comes from Rome.
- 6 Last month, I visited Jamaica. My grandfather was born there.
- 7 My uncle earns a lot of money. He works for a bank.
- 8 The Ferrari 550 can go at 320 km / h. It has a 5.5 litre engine.
- 9 Jake is going to study maths at university. His sister is in