

PÁGINA EVALUADA POR EL PROFESOR

Now the King did not know who the Marquis of Carabas was. In fact, it was a name that Puss made up. But he was very pleased with the gift.

From that day, every morning Puss caught an animal and gifted it to the King.

One day, the King was going for a ride in the forest. Immediately, Puss told his master, “Please go bathe in the river in the forest.”

As soon as his master was in the water, Puss took his clothes and hid them under a big rock.
