

Read the following sentences. Choose the correct word or phrase to complete the sentences.

Brian says that he had the chance to listen in on / understand some of the conversations of people in the audience and was able to watch their interactions as well.

Little was certain / uncertain that there were at least 47 people in the audience that were already displaying psychological symptoms he wanted / was reluctant to discuss.

The audience broke out in laughter/ was speechless when Brian made use of ironic statements.

He didn't want / wished to be gratuitous or intrusive by pointing at the members of the audience, but rather tell them a few facts and stories to prove his theory.

Brian is fascinated / bored by people's self-diagnosed boringness and inherent "twitiness" of people.

Which sentences below are true?

- ☐ 1. According to one of the most underestimated approaches in psychology known as trait psychology there are five dimensions of the personality that would explain the universally held aspects of difference between people.

- ☐ 2. Brian is completely against the “OCEAN” approach since all of those five dimensions do not have a direct impact on people’s lives and well-being.
- ☐ 3. Brian has a personality theory of his own that is based on three natures: the biogenic, the sociogenic and idiosyncratic.
- ☐ 4. Extroverts seek stimulation and introverts avoid stimulation since they regard it as a threat to their well-being.
- ☐ 5. It is frequent that introverts are labelled as antisocial.