

THERE IS-THERE ARE SOME-ANY-A-AN HOW MUCH-HOW MANY

1. Determine if the products are COUNTABLE (C) or UNCOUNTABLE (U)

Bread
Grapes
Butter
Salt
Chicken
Bananas

Water
Tomatoes
Sausages
Beef
Potatoes
Chocolate

Pork
Sugar
Mushrooms
Salmon
Tea
Lettuce

2. Complete the sentences with SOME, ANY, A or AN.

- a. There aren't _____ oranges.
- b. There is _____ egg.
- c. There is _____ coffee in the in the cup.
- d. There is _____ bag of sugar on the counter.
- e. There aren't _____ cakes.
- f. There are _____ tomatoes.
- g. Are there _____ hot dogs for the party?
- h. There are _____ bottles of water in the fridge.
- i. There is _____ bread.
- j. There aren't _____ bananas.
- k. Is there _____ honey in the jar?
- l. I have _____ apple in my bag.
- m. There is _____ cup of tea on the table.
- n. He has _____ money

3. Complete the questions using HOW MUCH or HOW MANY.

- a. _____ juice do you have?
- b. _____ eggs are there?
- c. _____ pieces of pizza are there?
- d. _____ garlic do you need for the soup?
- e. _____ lemonade do you want?
- f. _____ cheese is there?

- g. _____ bottles of milk are there?
h. _____ potatoes does she have?
i. _____ oil is there?
j. _____ bread do you need for the sandwich?

4. Complete the conversation using HOW MUCH, HOW MANY, SOME, ANY, A, AN, and the correct verb TO BE.

Tom: Hi Sara, we need to go to the supermarket. The fridge is empty.

Sara: Hi Tom, sure, we need to.

Tom: Ok, so, _____ there _____ milk?

Sara: Yes, there _____ bottle of milk

Tom: Oh, I see. How _____ juice _____ there?

Sara: Sorry, there _____ juice, we need to buy.

Tom: _____ there _____ bread?

Sara: Yes, there _____ bread.

Tom: How _____ slices of bread _____ there?

Sara: One, there _____ slice of bread.

Tom: Oh my God. _____ there _____ egg in the pot?

Sara: Fortunately, there _____ eggs.

Tom: Wow! Good news!! And ... _____ there _____ water?

Sara: I'm sorry. There _____ water.

Tom: How _____ jam _____ there?

Sara: There _____ jar of jam.

Tom: I really think we have to go to the supermarket.

Sara: Absolutely!!!

