

The Client

Chapter 7: Lawyer and Client

Correct the wrong information. Some sentences have no mistakes.

1. Reggie Love was an elderly woman with medium-length blond-dyed hair.

2. She became a lawyer when she was young.

3. The first question she asked Mark was about his meeting with the FBI.

4. Before speaking, Mark wanted to make sure Reggie wouldn't repeat what he had said.

5. Everyone had always called her Reggie since she was little.

6. She studied law after she became a widow.

7. Mark's dead father used to be kind and caring.

8. Reggie set her fees and Mark promised to get the money.

9. Mark told Reggie everything about the day of Romey's suicide.

10. After an hour, Reggie read the newspaper article about Romey.

11. Mark blamed himself for his brother's sickness.

12. He was afraid because he had lied to his mother.

13. Mark felt he would be in danger if he told what he knew.

14. Reggie said she needed to know where the senator's body was.

15. Reggie told Mark to keep quiet during the interview with the FBI. She would be in charge of talking.