

Mr. and Mrs. Right

Paul: What a nice day, isn't it Sara? The sun is shining and it's quite warm today.

Sara: Oh, yes. I feel relaxed at this beautiful park. Listen! The birds are singing on those tall trees. I think it's so calming to be here.

Paul: Yes, it is. Look! Isn't that Maria? She is jogging with her daughter, Kelly. And their dog is walking slowly behind them.

Sara: Oh yeah! They are always fit and energetic. And look at that playground. James and William are playing marbles while some other kids are watching them.

Paul: Isn't that Martha's daughter over there? She is swinging with her friends. And her brother Daniel is sliding and laughing. What a playful boy!

Sara: Yes, actually he is. Mr. Taylor is playing the guitar and singing a nice song under that palm tree. Some kids are listening and clapping. Laura and Ryan are dancing happily. They're both talented.

Paul: Mr. Taylor isn't working today. It's his day off so he is enjoying himself.

Sara: Teresa has a book in her hand, but she isn't reading. She is taking a nap on the grass.

Paul: What do Deborah and Bradley have on their hands? They both look excited.

Sara: They have some dog food and water for the street dogs around here. The dogs are gathering and waving their tails. They are so cute. Look! Benjamin is carrying cartons of milk for the puppies.

Paul: They are so kind. Christine isn't driving to work. She is cycling with her friends. Can you see her? She is across from the police station right now.

Sara: Yes. Are those planes up in the sky?

Paul: ¡Oh, ha ha! No, Sara. They are just kites. Ann and her uncle, Arthur are flying them.
