

- We use must + infinitive verb or have to + infinitive verb to express an obligation. Have to usually refers to external obligations.
 - I must remember the flight number.
 - We have to go to gate 16 at 9:30.

WANT / NEED

- We form the accusative with the structure to want / to need someone to do something.
 - I want my brother to pack my bags for me.
 - I need to do my homework.
