

PREPOSITIONS.

USE THE SUITABLE PREPOSITIONS. IF THERE IS NO PREPOSITION, USE 0

We finally succeeded _____ getting the right answers.

I have to hurry because I need to finish reading this book _____ two weeks.

He was attacked while he was waiting _____ a bus.

The ferry arrives _____ a quarter to seven.

You stayed _____ home _____ two weeks.

Detectives have been brought in to help search _____ clues.

We didn't know who to blame _____ the mistake.

They have already checked the Windows and doors _____ tonight.

I have always been interested _____ music.

She suffered _____ depression for most of her adult life.

Go _____ home and have a rest.

The story started _____ Monday afternoon.

He lifted his head and stared _____ her.

Can we rely _____ him to support us?

He was born _____ 1881.

She works _____ a big law firm in the city.

They arrived _____ the stadium 30 minutes early.

They found the historical documents which were written _____ 18th century.

You have to apply to the passport office _____ a visa.

He wakes up at 6 _____ the morning but he got up late _____ this morning.

Maria turned _____ the reporters and said: 'I'm innocent.'

Their future depends ____ how well they do in these exams.

I'll talk ____ the boys later.

I always enjoy walking _____ spring.

The audience didn't laugh ____ his jokes.

I don't believe ____ miracles.

I knew I could count _____ you to be on time.

You should apologize _____ your customers _____ wasting their money.

He graduated ____ Yale University in 1936.

Have you heard _____ the news?