

Joan and Sue are at school Joan: 1) _____ Sue: Yes, OK. 2) _____. I don't need it. Joan : Thank you	• Here you are • Can I borrow your pen? • Is there a pen?
John and Mary are at a café John: 3) _____ Waiter: Chicken or cheese? John: Cheese. Waiter: £3.60 John: 4) _____ Waiter: OK.	• Can I have a cheese sandwich, please? • Do you like cheese? • How much are the sandwiches?
Paul and Tom make plans for the weekend Paul: 1) _____ Tom: Hmm. I don't want to see a film. Paul: 2) _____ Tom: Yes, that's great! I love sports.	• Would you like to play tennis? • Let's go to the cinema. • Why don't we go to the theatre?
Two classmates are talking George: Can I borrow your English book? Jerry: Yes, OK. 3) _____ George: Thanks. Can I borrow your dictionary? Jerry: 4) _____. I need it.	• No, I'm sorry. • Well done. • Here you are.
Two students are making plans for the weekend Jane: 1) _____ Merli on Netflix on Saturday ? Sue: 2) _____. Jane: Why not? Sue: Well, I'm studying Maths this weekend.	• Why don't we watch • I'm not sure • That's a good idea
At the shop Customer: Excuse me 3) _____ is this computer game? Assistant: £32. Customer: God! It's too expensive. Assistant: Well 4) _____ this one, 'Surfers'? It's only £15. Customer: OK, I'll take it.	• How about • How many • How much