

Radiohead are an English rock band from Oxfordshire. The band has five members with the lead singer and main writer of the band being Thom Yorke, who also plays guitar and piano. Yorke is known for his high vocals (singing style) and the band is known for their unique sound. The band still performs live and attracts large crowds of fans to sold-out concerts, even though they play many different styles of music. The band created nine albums so far, the most recent being, "A Moon Shaped Pool" (2016). Their more popular ones being "OK Computer" (1997), "The Bends" (1995). One of Radiohead's most famous song "Creep" was a part of their first album "Pablo Honey" released in 1993.

"Creep" by Radiohead

When you _____ here before,

Couldn't _____ you in the eye.

You _____ just like an angel.

Your skin _____ me cry.

You _____ like a feather

In a beautiful world.

I _____ I _____ special.

You _____ so very special,

But I _____ a creep; I _____ a weirdo.

What the hell _____ I _____ here?

I don't _____ here.

I don't _____ if it _____.

I _____ to have control.

I _____ a perfect body.

I _____ a perfect soul.

I _____ you to notice

When I _____ not around

You _____ so very special,

I _____ I _____ special

But I _____ a creep; I _____ a weirdo.

What the hell _____ I _____ here?

I don't _____ here.

She _____ out again.

She _____ out

She _____ run... run... run... run

Whatever _____ you happy,

Whatever you _____ ...

You _____ so very special.

I _____ I _____ special,

But I _____ a creep; I _____ a weirdo.

What the hell _____ I _____ here?

I don't _____ here.

I don't _____ here.
