

HOW DO YOU FEEL TODAY?

A worksheet titled "HOW DO YOU FEEL TODAY?" featuring a grid of seven colorful faces with different expressions. Each face is connected to an empty yellow box for labeling. The faces are arranged in two rows: the top row has three faces (green with a wide toothy grin, pink with a simple smile, and blue with a sad face and a tear), and the bottom row has four faces (red with an angry expression, green with a surprised expression, yellow with a happy expression and tongue sticking out, and a yellow face with a crying expression). The faces are set against a white background. There are seven empty yellow boxes: one above the pink face, one to the left of the green face, one to the right of the blue face, one to the left of the red face, one to the right of the yellow face, one below the green face, and one to the left of the crying face.