

1. Write the connectors on each paragraph.

Suddenly	As soon as	Next	To begin with	Then	Finally
----------	------------	------	---------------	------	---------

_____ the robbery, Sarah was walking back home, she just got off the train and she was touching her pocket to find the keys. Her home was five minutes walking from the train station. The day that the theft happened, the weather was wet and cold in a dark night. The city was deserted, noone was on the streets, it was even difficult to listen to the cars and trains they were in the main streets. _____, a loud noise sounded from a building nearby. It was like a broken glass, but only cats were walking around. Those cats who were skinny and starving, looking for something to eat near the rubbish bins.

_____ Sarah looked down, she saw a 43 footprint and some blood drops which were running the same direction. She stopped and watched all the builidings around her. _____, she realised that there was a broken window from a narrow street. The footprints and the blood followed the direction of the narrow street.

_____, she saw a person who had a leather bag running away to ride a motorbike. The police was chasing the motorbike and at the traffic ligths there was a traffic accidente with a car. _____ the police arrested the criminal and they saw what there was in the bag.

¿What happened at the end of the story? Create an ending

