

Homophones

Your-you're/ his-he's/their-they're

Possessive adjectives	Pronoun + be
My car is broken	I'm (= I am) at the mechanics
Your car is broken	You're (= you are) at the mechanics
His car is broken	He's (= he is) at the mechanics
Their car is broken	They're (= they are) at the mechanics

1/ Choose the right form.

Sit down and open books .

How's Dad ? fine, thank you.

The kids are sad : they lost dog.

late again !

our new neighbours : house is next to the pool.

This is Tom. 9 and sister is 12.

2/ Dictation : click on the loudspeaker , listen and write what you hear

Be careful !

This is Liam and

I know you !

Look at the children !

Be quiet and

This is Bryan. 