

Homework Week 9 Day 4

Reading Homework:

Cameron and Charlie were good friends. Even though Cameron was a few years older than Charlie, they still had a good time playing outdoors together. The boys were playing one Saturday after dinner. They walked around the edge of the woods looking for interesting things when Charlie heard a peculiar noise. "What was that?" asked Charlie. "It sounds like a phone beeping."

They heard the noise again. Cameron said, "I hear it. I think it's an animal. Wait, maybe it's a person."

The boys walked farther into the woods, listening for the sound. Suddenly they saw something peeking out of a pile of leaves. It was an orange cat!

"Look!" said Charlie. "It's a cat. The poor thing looks wet, dirty, and skinny. We must act quickly before something tragic happens to it. It obviously needs our help and needs food."

"But Charlie, it's already dusk. If we don't get home before it's dark, our parents will be mad."

"Then let's hurry and coax this cat out of the woods so we can take it home. Don't you have some of your sandwich left in your backpack? I bet it would like some turkey," suggested Charlie.

Cameron quickly grabbed his leftover sandwich and the boys began sweetly calling, "Here kitty, kitty," and waving the turkey. The cat began to creep towards them. Lexile: 500
