My name is Jessica. I had a busy day yesterday. I went to a concert with my friend Sarah. I was at the front so I could see the band really well. The problem was I couldn't hear the music very well! There was a problem with the speakers. Luckily, I had my digital camera me and I took great photos.

After the concert, we went to a restaurant. I ate a pizza and my friend had spaghetti. We both drank water because they didn't have juice. Sarah told me about her day. She had a bad day because she didn't find her homework and the teacher told her to do it again.

At twenty to eleven I went home. On my way home I saw my cousin Mark and he invited me to his birthday party on Friday. I wrote him a card for his birthday and I wanted to bake a cake but I didn't have time, so I went to the supermarket to buy one. I hope he likes it.
