

5. She wrote a best-seller novel, and her older sister successfully published it.

Questions

1. How many subjects are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
 - c. three
2. How many verbs are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
3. Are there any coordinating conjunctions? (fanboys) _____
 - a. yes
 - b. no
4. Are there two independent sentences?

5. a. yes b. no
6. What kind of sentence is this one?

 - a. simple
 - b. compound
 - c. complex
7. How many phrase are there? _____
 - a. two
 - b. three
 - c. four
8. How many clauses does this sentence have? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two

6. Allan stopped and asked for directions around noon, but we got lost anyway.

1. How many subjects are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
 - c. three
2. How many verbs are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
3. Are there any coordinating conjunctions? (FANBOYS) _____
 - a. yes
 - b. no
4. Are there two independent sentences?

5. a. yes b. no
5. What kind of sentence is this one?

 - a. simple
 - b. compound
 - c. complex
6. How many phrase are there? _____
 - a. two
 - b. three
 - c. four
7. How many clauses does this sentence have? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two

7. Tom has been writing horror novels for years since his brother encouraged him.

1. How many subjects are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
 - c. three
2. How many verbs are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
3. How many clauses does this sentence have? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
4. Are there any subordinating conjunctions? (after, although, once, where, that, since) _____
 - a. yes
6. Which one is the independent clause? _____
 - a. Tom has been writing horror novels for years
 - b. since his brother encouraged him.
7. What kind of sentence is this one? _____
 - a. simple
 - b. compound
 - c. complex
8. How many phrases are there? _____
 - a. two
 - b. three
 - c. four

8. Before Allan stopped and asked for directions around noon, we got lost.

1. How many subjects are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
 - c. three
2. How many verbs are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
 - c. three
3. How many clauses does this sentence have? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
4. Are there any subordinating conjunctions? (after, although, once, where, that, since) _____
 - a. yes
 - b. no
5. Are there two independent sentences? _____
 1. a. yes b. no
6. Which one is the independent clause? _____
 - a. Before Allan stopped and asked for directions around noon
 - b. we got lost
7. What kind of sentence is this one? _____
 - a. simple
 - b. compound
 - c. complex

9. Sara and Tom met when she published her first best-seller novel, and they got married months later.

Questions

1. How many subjects are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
 - c. three
2. How many verbs are there in this sentence? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
 - c. three
3. How many clauses does this sentence have? _____
 - a. one
 - b. two
 - c. three
4. Are there any subordinating conjunctions? (after, although, once, where, that, since, when) _____
 - a. yes
 - b. no
5. Are there two independent sentences? _____
 - a. yes b. no
6. Which one is the dependent clause? _____
 - a. Sara and Tom met
 - b. when she published her first best-seller novel
 - c. they got married months later
7. What kind of sentence is this one? _____
 - a. simple
 - b. compound
 - c. complex
 - d. compound - complex