

1. PRE-READING

Look at the pictures. Listen to your teacher tell the story.

A MAN is driving a big black car through the mountains in Norway. He is driving fast.

A police officer sees the black car and follows it.

The black car goes around a curve. Then it goes around another curve. How fast is the black car going? It is going ten kilometers over the speed limit. That is too fast for the curves.

The police officer turns on his red light and his siren. The black car slows down, pulls over to the side of the road, and stops. The police car pulls over and stops, too.

The police officer walks to the black car. "License, please," he says. The man in the black car shows the police officer his license.

"Oh!" the police officer says and smiles. "Well! Have a nice day, sir," he says. Then he walks back to his police car and drives away.

The police officer doesn't give the man a ticket. Why not? The man in the black car was driving too fast, wasn't he? Yes, he was. But he is the king of Norway.
