

- A: How do you feel about your new job? Are you getting used to the new routine?
 B: Getting up so early is still a bit difficult. I usually get up at midday!
 A: Really?
 B: Yes, because I used to work in a bar and we would work until after midnight every night.
 A: Did you prefer working in the evenings, then?
 B: No, not at all. I'm used to finishing at midday now and I'm slowly getting used to waking up at four!

Presentation

usually + present simple

Use usually + present simple to talk about habits or routine actions: I usually get up at midnight.

used to and would + infinitive

Use used to / didn't use to to talk about a repeated past action, habit or situation: I used to work in a bar.

Use would + infinitive to talk about a repeated action or habit in the past. (We normally say when it happened.)
We would work until after midnight every night.

be used to

Use be used to to explain that someone is familiar with a situation or a routine: I'm used to finishing at midday.

get used to

Use get used to in the present continuous to explain that someone is in the process of becoming familiar with a situation: I'm getting used to waking up at four!

Use the past simple to show that the process is complete:
I quickly got used to waking up at four.

TIP

Use be/get used to to talk about the past, present or future.

past: I was / got used to getting up early.

present: I'm / I'm getting used to working in the morning.

future: I'll be / get used to getting up at four.

Exercises

- 1  Look at the verbs in bold. Replace used to with would/wouldn't where possible. Then listen and check.

I used to love chocolate. I used to eat it all day long. Some days I didn't use to eat anything else, until one day I developed an allergy to it — and now I can't eat it anymore!

I used to be scared of the dark. I used to refuse to go into a dark room on my own. My little sister used to hold my hand!

I didn't use to do any sport at all. I used to think I was fit and healthy enough without it. I used to spend all day at my desk and I never used to ever get any exercise. But then I broke my leg and I had to follow an intensive exercise programme. I actually enjoyed it and I've kept doing sport ever since.
