

Christmas Carol

Watch the story again and write the number, from 1 to 10, in the correct order in which it happens in the story.

	After he saw his own funeral, he decided to change the way he lived.
	His young nephew invited him over to the New Year's dinner and he refused again.
	Mr. Scrooge acted as if none of this had happened and headed off to bed.
	He bought a turkey for his helper's family and helped them. After, he went to his brother's house with his family and he ate with them.
	His helper approached him and asked: is it possible that I leave a little early today?
	A darker and scarier ghost appeared in front of him. He brought Mr. Scrooge to his own funeral.
	Soon after the ghost appeared from the last New Year's Eve, he showed Mr. Scrooge his past.
	Mr. Scrooge was looking out the window from his workplace.
	Strange things started to happen; the windows and the door began to sway and suddenly a ghost appeared right in front of him.
	A green giant covered ghost appeared in front of him and he showed him the present.
