The following day, he went out to the garden to admire all the flowers and suddenly, he saw a beautiful flower and thought of his daughter Beauty. So, he plucked the flower from the castle's garden and was just putting it into his waistcoat. Suddenly, a large Beast leapt out of a castle window and screamed at him for stealing from his garden.

The Beast gifted her a magic mirror which showed the person she wanted to see. One day, the magic mirror showed her that her father was very ill. Unable to see her sadness, the Beast allowed her to go home. Under Beauty's care, her father recovered in no time!

The ugly-looking Beast glowed and turned into a handsome prince.
"I was under a witch's curse," the Beast said. "I could only change back if someone fell in love with me."
Beauty and the Beast got married and lived happily ever after.

Many years ago, a merchant had three daughters. The first five were born when business was good, and he spoiled them rotten. How they loved their fine clothes, pearl necklaces, and pretty ponies! The youngest came as a gift to brighten up hard times. Her name was Belle and she was beautiful in name, looks, and temper.

One day while traveling, the merchant was lost in the woods and saw a castle after walking for hours. There was no one in the castle, and the merchant decided to spend his night there – so he had some good food, and went upstairs to find a cozy room with the fire well-lit and a comfortable bed for him to sleep on.

The merchant promised to send Beauty to castle. He went home and explained the matter to his daughter. Beauty decided to put his father's worries to rest and agreed to go to the castle. At first, Beauty was scared of the Beast but slowly, she realized that the Beast was kind and gentle towards her.

One day, Beauty thought of the Beast and saw the magic mirror. She saw that the Beast was ill. She realized that she did love him after all, and ran all the way to the castle.

"Please don't die, Beast!" she said. "I love you! I will stay here with you," and kissed the Beast.
