

Think about your next vacation. Write a text or paragraph in which you describe the place where you would like to go, which places you would visit, with whom you would go and how many days you would be in that place.

When you finish reading your text.