

C

| Sentences from the conversation             | If you also want to go on a camping safari, you'll need another three days. | But if we could take the seven-day tour, how much would it be per person? | [...] if you book early and pay two months before departure, you'll get a two per cent discount. |
|---------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Tense in the clause including 'if'          |                                                                                           |                                                                                                |                                                                                                                       |
| Verb form in the other clause               |                                                                                           |                                                                                                |                                                                                                                       |
| Situation is unreal/unlikely or real/likely |                                                                                           |                                                                                                |                                                                                                                       |
| Conditional Type 1 / 2                      |                                                                                           |                                                                                                |                                                                                                                       |