

AUSTRALIA

Aboriginal people

Go to <https://kids.britannica.com/kids/article/Australian-Aboriginal-peoples/629039> and complete.

_____ peoples have _____ in Australia for more than _____ years. They are one of the _____ living _____ in the world.

At the time the first British _____ arrived in _____, there were about _____ different groups of Aboriginal peoples _____ the continent. Scientists think that the _____ peoples originally _____ from _____.

Aboriginal peoples lived in _____. Aboriginal peoples were traditionally _____ and _____ who did not live in one place.

Aboriginal peoples passed down _____ through _____.

The _____ and _____ of Aboriginal peoples _____ dramatically when _____ arrived in Australia more than _____ years _____. In _____ several _____ from Great _____, carrying about _____ people, _____ in Australia. The _____ established a _____ and started to _____ the Aboriginal peoples off the _____. The Aboriginal peoples _____ to survive, and a large number _____ from _____.

_____ also _____ new _____ to Australia. Thousands _____ from the diseases and from _____ with the colonists.

In _____ the colonies began to pass _____ to “_____” the Aboriginal peoples. _____ were set up for them to live on. Those laws, however, kept the Aboriginal people from following their traditional _____ and led to the near _____ of their _____.

In the 20th _____ the Australian _____ started another _____ that _____ the Aboriginal peoples. They were _____ to _____ their traditional way of _____ and to _____ European _____. Aboriginal _____ were _____ from their _____ and _____ by _____ families or in government _____. These _____ later became known as the _____ Generations.

Finally, in the _____, Aboriginal people were given the right to _____ and were _____ as Australian _____. By the late _____ Australian society had begun to _____ the horrible _____ Aboriginal Australians had _____. In _____, the first National _____ Day was held. In _____ the Australian prime _____ issued a formal _____ for the past _____ of Aboriginal peoples.

Today, Aboriginal peoples make up less than 3 percent of the Australian population.

(Around 813,000). <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BI851yJUQw>

(Around 813,000)