Dear students,
I can't go to Oxford with you because I have a problem with my leg. But don't worry. Mr Peterson will go with you. Remember you're meeting at school at 8 a.m. If anyone needs a backpack, you can take mine.
Miss Jaxon

P.S. Have a good time and don't forget to send me a short film from Oxford.

C.

Are you looking for a cool backpack?
Come to 4 Comedy Street.
We've got backpacks in all sizes. Good for school or trips.
Open: Monday – Saturday
10 a.m. – 6 p.m.

D.

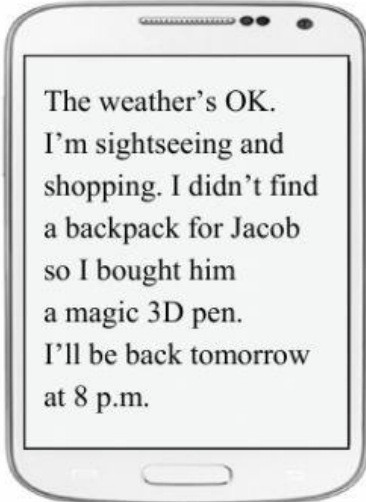

Make a film with your mobile phone
and send it to us!

This year's theme:
Adventures with a Backpack.

Great prizes!

E.

The weather's OK.
I'm sightseeing and shopping. I didn't find a backpack for Jacob so I bought him a magic 3D pen.
I'll be back tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Dear Aunt Polly,

Thank you for the beautiful photos you sent me. I hope you liked the postcard from us.

I'm arriving tomorrow and I've already bought the ticket. My train leaves at one thirty p.m. The trip takes three hours, so I'll be in London at half past four.

I'm so happy I'll see Grandma when I visit you. It's a pity I won't meet Uncle Bill and my little cousin Emily. I know they're on holiday.

Auntie, I remember that last year we visited an old castle together. I really liked it! But we didn't have time to go to the museum of old cars. I'd like to go there this year. And we can go to the theatre if you want.

Love,

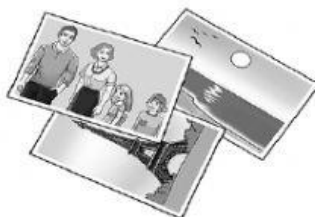

Jake
