

Listen to a recording about how the findings of a new research on arguing teenagers. While listening, choose the correct answer (A,B,C or D) and write it into the space in the answer box.

Teenagers Who Argue

<https://www.npr.org/player/embed/144495483/144633235>

1. A recent study found out that

- A. parents found it stressful to argue with their teenagers.
- B. teenagers profit from discussions with their parents.
- C. teenagers do not learn how to solve conflicts.
- D. parents are annoyed by teenagers who talk back.

2. Parents who quarrel with their teens should

- A. avoid criticizing them.
- B. try to find a compromise.
- C. worry about what to say.
- D. see this as good practice.

3. Videos of young teens showed that most discussions were about

- A. staying out late.
- B. bad school results.
- C. part-time jobs.
- D. inappropriate clothes.

4. It's important that teenagers learn how to argue because

- A. they need to deal with disappointments.
- B. they are often too emotional.
- C. it helps them accept rules.
- D. it is useful during conflicts with friends.

5. Teens who practised negotiating at home

- A. tried to prevent their peers from taking risks.
- B. persuaded their parents more often.
- C. could resist the bad influences of people their age.
- D. became more confident than their parents.

6. Teenagers who had not learned to argue

- A. gave in more easily.
- B. felt misunderstood by their friends.
- C. worried about coming home late.
- D. broke the rules less often.

7. Parents can support their children by

- A. taking their arguments seriously
- B. praising their behaviour.
- C. being honest.
- D. being interested in their hobbies.

8. When setting up rules, parents should motivate their kids to

- A. put everything down in written form.
- B. discuss them.
- C. understand possible consequences.
- D. agree to them.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

KEY

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
B	D	B	D	C	A	A	B