

Read the text below.

For each question (11-15), choose the answer (A-G) that best completes the sentence.

There are two letters that you do not need. Mark your answer on the answer sheet.

There is an example at the beginning (0→H).

Teen bloggers

At the age of fourteen Josh went to a concert with his older brother. It was then that he fell in love with music and (0) _____. He likes it when readers send him reviews by email about a new band or concert they've seen, and he puts these on his blog for everyone to read. While he was still at school he was careful about (11) _____, which was difficult as writing well takes time. He didn't think he would write it for much longer because he was busy, and it takes time to post regularly. At university he began writing for his university magazine. He stopped last year because of exams, (12) _____, so he started writing again. He's still writing for it now! He writes about local events and gets ideas from friends when (13) _____ – they always think of something interesting that happens in their town. People are usually curious about things that happen in their community. At first, almost nobody visited his site, but now more and more people are reading his blog and he's had some lovely comments.

Josh's friend Peter writes for his school magazine, which he finds really interesting. He doesn't think it's hard to write a good blog. (14) _____ that happen at their school. His older sister also has a blog, but she's writing about fashion and posts twice a week. They don't discuss what they're planning, but they read each other's blogs sometimes (15) _____. That's why they are successful bloggers.

- A he can't decide what to write about
- B which gives them useful ideas
- C that took a lot of his time
- D spending too long on his blog
- E his is about things from daily life
- F but he missed it a lot
- G which helps him decide what to write about next
- H started writing his music blog