

The Interlopers p. 431

- ▶ The Interlopers
- ▶ An Interview with the King of Terror

Vocabulary

Key Vocabulary Review

Oral Review Work with a partner. Use these words to complete the paragraph.

boundaries	identification	released
feuds	obvious	terror
granted	reconciliation

The scariest tales of (1) give readers a sense of (2) that helps them relate to the characters. But what can we have in common with "The Interlopers"—a story that was written almost a hundred years ago? The connection may not be (3) for everyone to see at first, but we have all heard of (4), or long arguments, between people. We know that people shouldn't cross the personal (5) that separate us from others. And who wouldn't feel frightened if they were trapped and not (6) from a scary situation? By telling a story about a (7) that brings two enemies together, Saki has (8) us a story that we can still relate to, decades later.