

I WHOSE IS IT?

mine his hers ours yours theirs

- A. Hi, Robert. I found this wallet in my office today. Is it yours ¹?
- B. No, it isn't ², but it might be Tom's.
- A. Maybe, but Tom hardly ever visits my office. It probably isn't ³.
- B. It's small and blue. Maybe it's Martha's.
- A. I asked her this morning. She says it isn't ⁴.
- B. Is there anything inside the wallet?
- A. There isn't any money, but there's a picture of three children.
- B. It might belong to Mr. Hill. He and his wife have three children.
Maybe the children are ⁵.
- A. I showed the picture to Mr. and Mrs. Hill. They said, "These children aren't ⁶. Our children are older."
- B. Maybe you should give the wallet to our supervisor.
- A. You know, it might be ⁷. She has three children!
- B. You're right. I'm positive it's ⁸. I saw her children in her office last week.
