

GRAMMAR CHECK

Prepositions of movement

Prepositions of movement tell us where something moves to.

Peter flew out of the window.

Hook jumped into the sea at once.

1 Choose the correct words to complete the text.

Peter and the children flew a) down / cross the room and b) out of / under the window. They went c) around / up the town, then they flew down the river and out d) over / through the sea.

They flew for many days. They were hot, then cold, then hot again, and they went e) through / over rain and sunny weather.

Wendy and her brothers weren't very good at flying, so they often flew f) across / into clouds. Peter was bored sometimes, so he went g) away / through and had adventures. Once Michael fell asleep, and he began to fall h) down / around to the sea.

Peter watched Michael and laughed. Then he caught Michael seconds before he went i) up / into the sea!

One day, the children looked j) over/ down between the clouds and saw an island. It was Neverland!

They flew k) out of /over a pirate ship, and they could see Indians, too. The Indians walked L) through / over the forest, m) away / under the trees. Suddenly, there was a big noise and smoke, and Wendy and Tinkerbell went n) up / through into the clouds.

'The pirates are shooting at us, Tinkerbell cried. 'Come with me!'

