

Emma Watson's speech on gender equality at the United Nations

Listen to the video and write the missing word or number in each gap (one word only).

The more I about, the more Ithatfor’s rights has too often become synonymous with-hating. If there is oneI know for certain, it is that thisto [...]

Iquestioning-based assumptions a long time When I was, I wasfor being calledbecause I wanted tothe plays that weput on forparents, but thewere When at, I started to be sexualized by certain elements of the When at, my girlfriends started dropping out of sports teams because they didn’t want tomuscly. When at, myfriends wereto express their I decided that I was a, and this seemedto me. But myresearch hasme thathas become an word. Women arenot to identify as

Why has the become such an one? I am from, and I think it isI amthe same as my counterparts. I think it is that I should be able to decisions about my own I think it is that women beon my behalf in the policies andthat willmy