PHOTOSYNTHESIS

Is the process by which plants use ..... , water and ....., in the presence of sunlight, to produce their own ..... and release ..... into the air.

Word bank

Sunlight food soil carbon dioxide oxygen glucose stomata minerals elaborated sap raw sap water

Leaves absorb ..... through their .....

Leaves use the energy from the ..... to transform the water and the..... into ..... and release ..... into the air.

The stem carries ..... and ..... from the roots to the rest of the plant.

The stem transports this mixture of water and glucose called ..... from the leaves to the rest of the plant.
(The plant uses this glucose to grow)

The roots absorb ..... and ..... from the soil.
This mixture is called the .....

María Liste

LIVEWORKSHEETS