

"Should have" or "supposed to" ?

I _____ (buy) those shoes. As soon as I tried them in the store, I felt them squeezing but I trusted that they would stretch a little. But they didn't, and now I can't wear them at all.

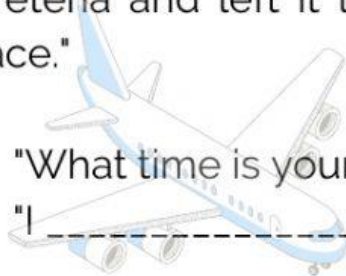

I _____ (go) to the conference in the first place. But my supervisor got sick, so I had to go instead.

You _____ (finish) the cake, you _____ (stop) when you found the first walnut. You're allergic to them, you know what could have happened?

A: "The projector _____ (be) in the Orange conference room, why isn't it there?"

B: "Because you borrowed it last week for the presentation in the cafeteria and left it there. You _____ (put) it back in its place."

A: "What time is your flight tomorrow?"

B: "I _____ (be) at the airport at 6 am."

A: "You've failed the test! What's happened?"

B: "I _____ (study) more."

A: "Why didn't you show up to our meeting?"

B: "I'm sorry, I _____ (be) there but I got caught up in traffic."

A: "Why did you break up with your girlfriend?"

B: "I _____ (be) more honest with her about my feelings."

A: "Did you finish your project on time?"

B: "No, I'm afraid I didn't. I _____ (submit) it yesterday but I got busy."

