READING AND COMPREHENSION

- Look at these statements FOR and AGAINST zoos:

For	Against
Zoos educate the public.	Animals suffer stress and boredom.
Zoos save endangered species.	There can be overpopulation of some species, due to pressures to breed 'cute' baby animals.
Zoos have breeding programmes.	Some zoos kill their surplus animals.
Visiting a zoo is a family activity.	Zoos teach children that imprisoning animals for entertainment is acceptable.
Seeing a live animal up close is a personal and memorable experience.	Animals suffer ill health and become unfit.

- Read through the four pieces of evidence below, then match each piece of evidence to one of the arguments in the grid.

Evidence 1: A study of UK zoos found that 75% of elephants were overweight and only 16% could walk normally, the remainder having various degrees of lameness.	Evidence 2: Tigers and lions have around 18,000 times less space in zoos than they would have in the wild.
Evidence 3: Only 23 amur leopards are left in the wild because of poaching and habitat destruction, and they're only being kept alive because of breeding programmes in zoos.	Evidence 4: At the Saint Louis Zoo, about 400,000 children and adults participate in formal programmes, including classes and Camp KangaZoo each year.
