Part 2:

Step 1: Listen and fill in the gap

You will hear a radio presenter called Jonathan talking about the programmes during the week.

Jonathan: Before tonight's news let me talk about some of the shows we have for you this week so you can make a note of them in your diary. There are a few changes to our programmes so listen carefully to make sure you don't miss any of your favourites. Tonight at 8.30 John Seymour will present this week's wildlife documentary. John entertained us all previously with his trip to the safari park when he went to meet the elephants. This time John will be telling us about how we can grow the wildflowers in our gardens. Then our first change of programme is Apologies to listeners. We have Writers' World and our interview with Francis Selhurst, on how to get ideas for your next novel. We've had to change this interview for next week as Francis is attending a conference. Instead, we'll be talking with a guest about how you can make use of the internet to get your next book.

On Thursday at 8.00 we have Sports Night as usual, with a look at next weekend's football. Most of the games from last Saturday were cancelled because of the terrible weather, so there are no reports on those matches. But our experts will be looking forward to some action this Saturday and will be trying to get the best results as usual. Join our team at 8.00.

And finally, our reporter Sally Williams will be in town next Friday morning. She'll be interviewing people for our Money Matters, starting from 10.00, not the 9.00. If you'd like the chance to meet her and share your views of your experiences and any problems you may have, meet Sally at the new entrance of the library, not the normal meeting place at the Town Hall, which is closed because of building work.

Step 2: Listen again and complete

For each question, write the correct answer in the gap. Write one or two words or a number or a date or a time.

You will hear a radio presenter called Jonathan talking about the programmes on during the week.
